

Hearing on “Progress and Present Challenges on COVID-19 in Africa”

U.S. House of Representatives

House Foreign Affairs Committees

Subcommittee on Africa, Global Health, and Global Human Rights

Dr. Maria Elena Bottazzi

Maria Elena Bottazzi is an internationally recognized tropical and emerging disease vaccinologist, global health advocate and cocreator of a patent-free, open science COVID-19 vaccine technology that led to the development of Corbevax, a COVID-19 vaccine for the world. She pioneers and leads innovative partnerships for the advancement of a robust vaccine development portfolio tackling diseases that affect disproportionately the world’s poorest populations, making significant contributions to catalyze policies and disseminate science information to reach a diverse set of audiences. In 2022, alongside vaccine researcher Peter Hotez, she was nominated for the Nobel Peace Prize.