

Hearing on “Examining the Realities of Russian Activities and Influence in Africa and Its Effects on the Continent”

U.S. House of Representatives

House Foreign Affairs Committees

Subcommittee on Africa, Global Health, and Global Human Rights

Dr. Joseph Siegle (See-Gil)

Dr. Joseph Siegle leads the Africa Center’s research program, which produces the Center’s Africa Security Briefs, Research Papers, Special Reports, Spotlights, and Infographics.

Prior to joining the Africa Center, he was a Douglas Dillon Fellow at the Council on Foreign Relations, a senior research scholar at the University of Maryland’s Center for International and Security Studies, and a senior advisor for democratic governance at DAI. He has also served in various field capacities throughout Africa as well as in Asia and the Balkans with World Vision, and as a Peace Corps Volunteer.

Dr. Siegle holds a doctorate in international security and economic policy from the University of Maryland’s School of Public Policy and a master’s in agricultural economics, with an emphasis on African food security, from Michigan State University.