

PARTNERSHIP FOR PUBLIC SERVICE

Max Stier
President and CEO
Partnership for Public Service

Max Stier is President and CEO of the Partnership for Public Service, a nonprofit, nonpartisan organization dedicated to revitalizing our federal government by inspiring a new generation to serve and by transforming the way government works. Under Mr. Stier's leadership, the Partnership has been widely praised as a first-class nonprofit organization and thought leader on federal government management issues.

He has worked previously in all three branches of the federal government. In 1982, he served on the personal staff of Congressman Jim Leach. Mr. Stier clerked for Chief Judge James Oakes of the United States Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit in 1992 and clerked for Justice David Souter of the U.S. Supreme Court in 1994. Between these two positions, Mr. Stier served as Special Litigation Counsel to Assistant Attorney General Anne Bingaman at the U.S. Department of Justice.

In 1995, Mr. Stier joined the law firm of Williams & Connolly, where he practiced primarily in the area of white collar defense.

Mr. Stier comes most recently from the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development, having served as the Deputy General Counsel for Litigation.

A graduate of Yale College and Stanford Law School, Mr. Stier is a member of both the National Academy of Public Administration and the Administrative Conference of the United States. He also serves on the Advisory Board of the Brookings Management and Leadership Initiative, National Advisory Board for Public Service at Harvard College, and Deloitte's GovLab Board of Governors.
