

Nick Howley – Founder and Chairman

TransDigm Group Inc.

Nick Howley is the Founder and Executive Chairman of Transdigm Group, Inc., a New York Exchange listed company. The company is a leading global designer, producer and supplier of highly engineered aircraft components, systems and subsystems.

Nick is one of the founders of The Howley Foundation and a member of the Board of Directors.

Howley is also currently the Chairman of the Cristo Rey Network Board. The Cristo Rey Network is comprised of 32 Catholic, college preparatory schools that serve more than 10,000 economically disadvantaged students across 21 states.

Nick's extensive charitable governance experience also includes service on the boards of Case Western Reserve University, The Cleveland Clinic, The Rock and Roll Hall of Fame, Washington and Jefferson College, St Martin de Porres High School, Gilmour Academy as well as various public and private for profit boards.

Howley earned his B.S. degree in mechanical engineering from Drexel University and his MBA from Harvard Business School.