

Jill Naamane (pronounced: nah-MAHN)

Biography:

Ms. Naamane is an Acting Director in the Physical Infrastructure team at the U.S. Government Accountability Office (GAO). She oversees work on federal asset management, including the U.S. Postal Service and management of federal real property. Ms. Naamane joined GAO in 2001. Over her career, her work has led to savings to federal programs as well as agency actions and legislation to improve agency operations, enhance service to the public, and reduce federal exposure to significant risks. She holds a master's degree in Public Policy from the University of Chicago's Harris School of Public Policy Studies and a bachelor's degree in French and International Relations from Grand Valley State University.

Short bio summary:

Ms. Naamane is an Acting Director in the Physical Infrastructure team at the U.S. Government Accountability Office. She oversees work on federal asset management, including the U.S. Postal Service and management of federal real property.