

William G. Resh is an associate professor of public policy and management at the University of Southern California's Sol Price School of Public Policy. He holds the C. C. Crawford Professorship in Management and Performance. He is also the director of USC's Civic Leadership Education and Research (CLEAR) Initiative. He earned his Ph.D. from the American University's School of Public Affairs in 2011. He is the author of Rethinking the Administrative Presidency (Johns Hopkins University Press, 2015).