

Deepa Padmanabha is Deputy General Counsel for Greenpeace USA. She has been with Greenpeace USA since 2011 and is based in Washington DC. Currently, Deepa's focus is on defending Greenpeace USA against two lawsuits attempting to silence the organization's advocacy work. She also advises on a variety of in house legal matters, and works closely with environmental activists seeking to exercise their First Amendment rights to promote systemic change.

Deepa obtained her BA from Emory University in 2003 and her JD from American University Washington College of Law in 2008.
