

Dr. Oliver McPherson-Smith

Dr. Oliver McPherson-Smith is a scholar of energy and regulatory issues. He is the director of energy, trade, and environmental policy at the American Consumer Institute, a non-profit think tank. He also holds a research fellowship at the Hoover Institution at Stanford University. Dr. McPherson-Smith's work has been published in a variety of leading international academic journals and newspaper publications. He holds a PhD in Politics from the University of Oxford, a Master's degree in Middle Eastern Studies from Harvard University, and a Bachelor's degree in Land Economy from the University of Cambridge. He is a naturalized citizen of the United States and lives in California with his husband.