

Brendan Duke is a senior director for economic policy at the Center for American Progress Action Fund.

Prior to joining American Progress, he was a senior adviser to Sen. Michael Bennet (D-CO) and staff director of the U.S. Senate Finance Subcommittee on Taxation and IRS Oversight.

Previously, he was a senior policy adviser at the White House National Economic Council and volunteer on the Biden-Harris transition team. While at the White House, Duke worked on tax and budget issues as well as on the Administration's Supply Chain Disruptions Task Force.

Duke has also held positions at the Center on Budget and Policy Priorities and Congress' U.S. Joint Economic Committee. He holds a bachelor's degree from Macalester College and a master's in public affairs from Princeton University.