

Mandy M. Gunasekara

From the Senate Cloakroom to the Oval Office, Mandy has been at the center of U.S. energy and environmental policy for the last decade. She's a veteran environmental attorney, energy strategist, and communicator. She served in the U.S. House of Representatives, the U.S. Senate, and President Trump as the Chief of Staff at the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency. She was the architect of the Paris Accord withdrawal and a defining voice in the Trump Administration's environmental and energy agenda.

Currently, she's a principal at Section VII Capital, co-Founder of Satoshi Action Fund (SAF), and a media commentator on Fox, Fox Business, and Newsmax. She's a prolific writer and guest radio host for her home state's conservative radio station - Supertalk Mississippi. In October, her first book, Y'all Fired: A Southern Belle's Guide to Restoring Federalism and Draining the Swamp, officially hit the shelves. She lives with her husband and two children in Oxford, Mississippi.
