

Dr. Cody Hirschi has served as Superintendent of the Reeds Spring School District in southwest Missouri since July 2019. An educator since 2004, he has worked as a teacher, principal, and superintendent, previously leading the Mid-Buchanan School District in Faucett and the Pettis County School District in Hughesville. Dr. Hirschi holds a Doctor of Education, an Education Specialist degree, and Master's and Bachelor of Arts degrees, all from Lindenwood University. He and his wife, Amy, enjoy living in southwest Missouri near Table Rock Lake, where they love exploring the Ozarks. Dr. Hirschi is driven by his faith and by his belief that every child deserves a personalized learning experience.
