

Greenville, SC 29601

48° Cloudy 7% 📍 ↗

Advertisement

2 Greenville County men charged in human trafficking investigation involving minor, SLED says

Updated: 11:20 PM EST Nov 26, 2025

Editorial Standards ⓘ

Zach Rainey

GREENVILLE COUNTY, S.C. — Two men in Greenville County, South Carolina, have been charged in connection with a human trafficking investigation, according to the South Carolina Law Enforcement Division.

On Monday, SLED charged 46-year-old Kamal Surinder Desor with trafficking in persons - victim under 18 years of age.

Advertisement

As part of the investigation, SLED also charged 45-year-old Detrick Lamar Stenhouse with trafficking in persons - victim under 18 years of age on Oct. 20.

Officials said at the time of Stenhouse's arrest, he was already serving a sentence on unrelated drug charges in the South Carolina Department of Corrections.

The Greenville Police Department requested SLED to investigate.

According to an arrest warrant, on Jan. 20, Stenhouse obtained a 16-year-old knowing that the minor would be subjected to sex trafficking. Stenhouse and Desor facilitated commercial sex acts to occur with the minor in Simpsonville.

Another arrest warrant states that on April 2, Desor knowingly solicited and engaged in sex acts with the victim.

Greenville County Detention Center
Desor

Desor was booked into the Greenville County Detention Center under the trafficking charge and a prostitution charge.

Stenhouse remains in the South Carolina Department of Corrections. He was convicted of distributing methamphetamine, failure to stop for law enforcement and possession of cocaine.

SCDC
Stenhouse

The case will be prosecuted by the 13th Circuit Solicitor's Office.

SLED said these two arrests were made in connection with SLED's arrest of Brooke Elizabeth-Louise Foster in June.

Greenville County Detention Center

