

Mr. Mark L. Goldstein

Mark L. Goldstein is a director of physical infrastructure issues at the United States Government Accountability Office (GAO), the investigative arm of Congress. Mark's previous public sector service includes positions as the deputy director and chief of staff of the D.C. Financial Control Board, legislative advisor to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, and staff member of the U.S. Senate Committee on Governmental Affairs. Prior to his role in government, Mark was an award-winning journalist and author.

Mark holds a B.S. in Journalism from Syracuse University, an M.P.A. from George Washington University, and M.A. in History from the University of Maryland at College Park, where he is now completing his dissertation for a Ph.D. in History. Mark has been awarded fellowships at the John F. Kennedy School of Government at Harvard University and at Wolfson College, University of Cambridge, England.