

Jitinder Kohli

Government Performance Leader

Jitinder Kohli is a managing director at Monitor Deloitte, where he works on strategy, performance improvement, and outcomes-based financing in the public and nonprofit sectors. Prior to joining Deloitte, he was a senior fellow at the Center for American Progress, where he led the Doing What Works project.

A native of the United Kingdom, Kohli spent 15 years as a senior official in the British government, including time at the British Treasury, Cabinet Office, and Business Department. He studied at Oxford University, Southampton University, and the Wharton School at the University of Pennsylvania.