

JACQUELINE C. SIMON

Jacqueline Simon is the Public Policy Director of the American Federation of Government Employees, AFL-CIO (AFGE), a union that represents more than 650,000 federal and District of Columbia employees. She conducts research and serves as an advisor to the union's elected leaders on a broad range of issues involving federal employment, including pay, health insurance, retirement benefits, civil service protections, and privatization.

Ms. Simon also works on economic policy issues for the union, with special emphasis on federal budget and tax policy, Social Security, Medicare, and pay equity. Educated at the American University in Washington, DC; she earned a B.A., an M.A. and fulfilled all of the requirements for a Ph.D. in Economics, except for dissertation. Ms. Simon represents AFGE on the Federal Salary Council, the Federal Prevailing Advisory Committee, and the Federal Employee Thrift Advisory Council.