

Biographical Information
William Davis

A native of Lubbock, TX, Will Davis attended Texas Tech University, earning a degree in Finance. Upon graduation, Will joined the congressional staff of U.S. Representative Randy Neugebauer (TX-19), where he focused on financial services policy. Will later earned an MBA from Harvard Business School, and upon graduation founded Outbox, a technology startup with the mission of bringing innovation to the postal industry.

Will is married to his high school sweetheart, Kari, and has three young daughters.