

Secretary Phil McGrane Bio

Phil McGrane is a fourth-generation Idahoan whose happy, honest approach to public service earned him the opportunity to serve as Idaho's 28th Secretary of State. Phil has definitively earned the title of an "Elections Nerd." He started in elections the old-fashioned way—counting punch cards and training poll workers back in 2005 as a young election specialist. While attending law school, he clerked for the U.S. Election Assistance Commission and went on to serve as both Chief Deputy and then was elected County Clerk for Idaho's largest county.
