

BIOGRAPHY OF KIRSTEN GULLICKSON

Kirsten Gullickson is Director of Systems Analysis and Quality Assurance in the Office of the Clerk, U.S. House of Representatives.

Ms. Gullickson has more than three decades of experience supporting House operations. She currently leads a multidisciplinary team of business analysts, product support specialists, and quality assurance professionals who develop legislative technology and modernization initiatives. She serves as co-chair of the Legislative Branch XML Working Group and coordinator of the Congressional Data Task Force, helping advance congressional data standards, support the structured representation of legislative text, and improve and expand public access to congressional information.

Ms. Gullickson's breadth of experience includes interbranch and international legislative technology initiatives and prior service in a House Member office and with the North Dakota state government. She holds a bachelor's degree in political science from North Dakota State University.

