

Anish Bhimani
Managing Director
Chief Information Risk Officer
JP Morgan Chase

Anish Bhimani is Managing Director and Chief Information Risk Officer of JP Morgan Chase. In this role, he has global responsibility for ensuring the security, controls and resiliency of the firm's technology environment. He is also a member of the JPMC Technology Leadership team.

Mr. Bhimani also serves as Chairman of the Board of the FS/ISAC, an industry-wide organization chartered with facilitating information sharing among the various members of the financial services sector, as well as government agencies. He has served as Chairman of the FS/ISAC since 2011, and on the Board of Directors since 2009.

He also sits on the Risk Committee of The Clearing House, and the Security for Business Innovation Council. He was recently named Information Security Executive of the Decade for North America by Tech Exec Networks, and was named to Bank Technology News' "Top 25 Innovators" list in 2008 for his novel approach to information risk management.

Prior to joining JPMC, Mr. Bhimani served in various roles at Booz Allen Hamilton, Predictive Systems, SAIC, and Bell Communications Research.

Mr. Bhimani has written numerous articles, and has lectured around the world on topics related to information security. He is the co-author of Internet Security for Business (Wiley & Sons, 1996), and a U.S. patent holder.

Mr. Bhimani received a Sc.B. in Engineering from Brown University and an M.S. in Information Networking from Carnegie-Mellon University.