

Dr. David Russomanno serves as Executive Vice President for Academic Affairs and Provost at the University of Memphis. Prior to becoming Provost, he served for 13 years as dean of the Purdue School of Engineering and Technology and Professor of Electrical and Computer Engineering at Indiana University-Purdue University Indianapolis. Prior to his over 30-year academic career, Russomanno was employed by Pratt and Whitney Aircraft, Michelin Tire Corporation, and Intergraph Corporation as a design engineer.

Dr. Russomanno has secured several million dollars of external funding from both the public and private sectors as Principal Investigator for basic and applied research, as well as for initiatives to improve the recruitment, retention, and overall success of STEM students.

Dr. Russomanno received the B.E.E. in electrical engineering from Auburn University and the Ph.D. in computer engineering from the University of South Carolina.