The Airport Research and Development Foundation (ARDF), an affiliate organization of AAAE, holds a contract with TSA to perform various functions related to the processing of criminal history background checks and security threat assessments for Federal court officials, Transportation Security Officers, Federal Air Marshals, and Federal Flight Deck Officers. The contract does not provide a specific dollar amount to ARDF. Rather, TSA provides the ARDF with a fee for each record processed from the covered population. ARDF previously held a similar contract for participants in the Alien Flight School program.
