

Homeland
Security

Biography

Don Roberts

Program Manager

Science and Technology Directorate

Homeland Security Advanced Research Project Agency - Explosives Division

Mr. Roberts is the Program Manager for the Detection Canine and Surface Transportation Explosive Threat Detection Programs for the Explosives Division within the Homeland Security Advanced Research Projects Agency, Science and Technology (S&T) Directorate, Department of Homeland Security (DHS).

Mr. Roberts has been with DHS since 2006. He came to DHS with over 18 years of experience with the Department of Defense, where he managed advanced research, development, test and evaluation (RDT&E) programs.

Mr. Roberts has a B. S. degree in Aerospace Engineering and a M.S. degree in Engineering Management from the University of Maryland. Mr. Roberts is DHS Level III certified in Program Management.

###