Tina Won Sherman
Director
U.S. Government Accountability Office

During her tenure at the U.S. Government Accountability Office (GAO), Tina Won Sherman has led numerous reviews at the Departments of Defense, Homeland Security, and Transportation. Ms. Sherman is currently leading a portfolio of work on critical infrastructure protection, transportation security, and research and development issues in the Homeland Security and Justice Team at GAO. Previously, she contributed to agency-wide efforts assessing the federal government's role responding to Hurricane Katrina and implementing the Recovery Act and CARES Act; identifying areas of duplication and cost savings; and evaluating the progress of agencies as part of GAO's biennial High-Risk Update. Ms. Sherman also served on a detail in GAO's Office of Congressional Relations, where she supported the Armed Services, Foreign Affairs and Foreign Relations, Intelligence, and Veterans' Affairs committees. Prior to GAO, she worked at the New America Foundation, a non-partisan think tank. Ms. Sherman studied government and politics at the University of California, San Diego; Virginia Tech; and the University of Maryland, College Park.
