

Bio:

Full Bio: For Publication

Ed McCarthy

Chief Operating Officer

Georgia Ports Authority

Ed McCarthy serves as the Chief Operating Officer for the Georgia Ports Authority.

He has served on the GPA leadership team for more than seven years and is responsible for the growth and development of GPA's multiple operations, while maintaining world-class operating standards.

His areas of responsibility include all operations, public safety, engineering, and maintenance. As COO, Ed oversees more than 1,500 GPA employees.

Prior to coming to the GPA, Ed served as Chief Operating Officer for CMA CGM America, a global shipping leader.

Ed obtained a Bachelor of Science from SUNY Maritime College, and a Master of Business Administration from William & Mary University. He and his wife, Heather, are blessed to live in Savannah, GA.

SHORTER INTRO: For reading

Edward McCarthy serves as the Chief Operating Officer for the Georgia Ports Authority. He is a proven leader in the maritime industry, overseeing growth and development of multiple port operations, while maintaining world-class operating standards. His areas of responsibility include all operations, safety, engineering, and maintenance as well as protective services, with direct reports of more than 1,600 employees.