

Matthew McCabe is a Managing Director in the Cyber Center of Excellence, Guy Carpenter, a leading global risk and reinsurance specialist and a business of Marsh McLennan.

Matt came to Guy Carpenter from Kivu Consulting, Inc., a provider of cybersecurity and cyber incident response services specializing in ransomware. At Kivu, he acted as General Counsel and advised on response, ransomware negotiation and mitigation.

Prior to Kivu, Matt worked as a Senior Vice President and an Assistant General Counsel for Cyber Policy at Marsh Marsh's Cyber Center of Excellence, where he advised global clients with the placement of cyber insurance, the negotiation of coverage wording, and the administering of cyber insurance claims.

Prior to his career in cyber insurance, Matt served as senior counsel to the U.S. House of Representatives Committee on Homeland Security, where he advised congressional representatives on cybersecurity and data privacy issues and in the administration of President George W. Bush as a policy director on the Homeland Security Council.

Before working in Washington, Matthew was a litigator at Schulte Roth & Zabel LLP in New York, specializing in securities and accounting fraud and a law clerk for Hon. William H. Pauley III in the Southern District of New York.

- BA in business administration, Bucknell University
- JD, Hofstra University School of Law; admitted in the State of New York.