

Bio for Angela Bailey

DHS & the Under Secretary for Management is pleased to announce the addition of Ms. Angela Bailey to the Management Directorate's leadership team. Ms. Bailey will serve as our new Chief Human Capital Officer starting on January 11. Ms. Bailey comes to DHS from OPM where she has served since 2007, most recently as the Chief Operating Officer (2013-Present). Prior to being the COO, she was the Associate Director for Employment Services and Chief Human Capital Officer. In all, Ms. Bailey has close to 35 years to public service, with more than 25 of those years in human resources.

Ms. Bailey began her career with the Social Security Administration and later worked for the Department of Defense in several different components and Defense agencies. She has served in many roles, including Budget Analyst, Labor Relations Officer, and as the Director of Human Resources for the Defense Contract Management Agency. She has a Master's Degree in Leadership from Bellevue University and participated in Harvard University's Kennedy School National Preparedness Leadership Initiative for Executives in 2012.