Nan Stockholm-Walden

Vice President & Legal Counsel Farmers Investment Co.

Currently, Nan Stockholm Walden serves as Vice President and Counsel at Farmers Investment Co.(FICO), the largest pecan growing and processing farm in the world, located in Sahuarita, Arizona. She serves in the same capacity for Farmers Water Co., a wholly owned subsidiary of FICO.

Nan received a B.A. in environmental studies with honors and distinction from Stanford University, and a J.D. from Stanford Law School where she was President of the Stanford Environmental Law Society.

During her career Nan served as Counsel to the U.S. Senate Environment and Public Works Committee and Counsel for Senator Daniel Patrick Moynihan on the Water Resources Subcommittee. She was Chief of Staff for Senator Bill Bradley who served on the Senate Finance, and Energy and Natural Resources Committees. She was Director of the Presidio Council, a national group of distinguished citizens who advised the Department of Interior on the conversion of the Presidio Army Base in San Francisco to a national park. She was consultant to a number of foundations including Irvine, Hewlett, Packard and Ford on environmental, and land regulation and growth issues in rapidly growing states. She also served as Director of the Western Conference of Attorneys General, and Counsel to the Western Conference of State Legislators, a division of the National Council of State Governments. In Arizona she has been Associate Vice President for Federal Relations at the University of Arizona in Tucson.

In addition to her work at FICO, Nan serves on the Board of Directors of the National Immigration Forum, a non-partisan organization that works with diverse constituencies especially business, faith and law enforcement leaders advocating for immigrants and responsible immigration policy.

She also serves or has served on the boards of President's Council of the American Farmland Trust, The Arizona Nature Conservancy, the Canoa Ranch Advisory Committee, the Sonoran Institute, the Carondelet Foundation and Cabinet, the Santa Cruz Valley Heritage Alliance, the Santa Lucia Conservancy, the Stanford Law School Environmental and Natural Resources Advisory Council, and the University of Arizona Eller College of Business Associates Board.

Nan enjoys horseback riding, birding, dog training and fly fishing, and resides with her husband, Dick Walden, on a working ranch in Amado.
