

David J. Bier is the associate director of immigration studies at the Cato Institute. Mr. Bier has over a decade of experience in immigration policy, and he is an expert on legal immigration, border security, and interior enforcement. The U.S. Supreme Court and multiple federal appeals courts have cited his research and writing. From 2013 to 2015, Bier was the senior policy adviser for Congressman Raúl Labrador, then a vice chairman and later the chairman of the House Judiciary Committee's Subcommittee on Immigration and Border Security.