

Suzette Kelly is the Deputy Executive Director - Performing the Duties of Executive Director of Agriculture Programs & Trade Liaison (APTL), Office of Field Operations (OFO), U.S. Customs and Border Protection (CBP). In her current role, Ms. Kelly is charged with providing leadership, expertise, and steering interagency collaboration and partnership to safeguard against threats to United States agriculture and America's food supply. Her office is responsible for administering agricultural quarantine inspection programs and coordinating biological threat exclusion capabilities at the CBP ports of entry

Ms. Kelly's leadership experience includes her previous assignment as Deputy Executive Director, APTL and Director, Agriculture Safeguarding and Risk Management. In her former leadership role as Branch Chief, Agro/Bio-Terrorism Countermeasures Division, APTL, Ms. Kelly spearheaded the establishment of the Biological Threat Operation Specialist (BTOS) program, enhancing biological threat mitigation capabilities in the Office of Field Operations.

Prior to transferring to CBP in 2005, Ms. Kelly served as a Biological Science Technician with the National Park Service in the U.S. Virgin Islands, her childhood home. Ms. Kelly holds a Master of Science in Law, a Master of Science in Forensic Science.