

Roger D. Horton, Founder of Citizens for Coal

I was born in Logan, West Virginia. I am 59 years of age, Logan High Grad of 1972 worked in steel mill after graduation until 1974 and began my mining career in 1974 and left the industry this year in august of 2013. During my mining career I was employed at Amherst Coal Company at an Underground Met coal mine. Later I moved to the Surface operating and servicing all types of Surface mine equipment. I am married to a retired L.P.N and my daughter and son are also nurses. I am a third generation miner and love my industry. Founded Citizens for Coal to educate the public of Coals Importance to our State and Country and have worked tirelessly to defend our way of life

Roger D. Horton