

Jean-Luc Moreau

Global Head Product Security

Novartis International AG

Education

French Military Academy of Saint-Cyr (1980-1983)

French War College (1996)

Military Service

French Foreign Legion –Platoon Leader (1983-1986)

DGSE (French Intelligence Agency) –Action Division (1986-1992)

French Airborne Division –Company Leader and Instructor (1992-1996)

DGSE (French Intelligence Agency) –Action Division (1996-2005)

Military / National Awards:

- Legion of Honors
- Ordre National du Merite
- Croix de la Valeur Militaire
- Croix du Combattant

Consulting

ICV Strategy –Founder and CEO (2005-2007)

- Corporate Security Strategy
- Business Intelligence

Pharmaceutical Industry

Novartis International A.G –Senior Security Advisor Europe, Middle-East & Africa (2007-2011)

Novartis International A.G –Global Head Product Security (2011-today)

- Design and implement Novartis Group Global anti-pharmaceutical crime / Brand Integrity Strategy
- Lead the cross-functional, cross-divisional Group Product Security Coordination Committee
- Map regional and trans-regional priorities i.e. countries, zones or logistic routes potentially subject to in-depth monitoring and proactive risk analysis
- Design / implement specific investigative and analytical tools
- Co-ordinate and manage transnational investigations against organized pharmaceutical crime syndicates in relation with national or international Law Enforcement authorities