Clinical Service Contributions:

My clinical responsibility is at Grady Memorial Hospital emergency department. I am responsible for direct patient care, supervision of residents, medical students, physician assistants, nurse practitioners and physician assistant students. In order to balance the administrative work that I do and my research, I preferentially work more evening and weekend shifts in the emergency department. I am in the top 25% of my colleagues in patients seen per hour as well as RVU generation. I am also in the top quintile of my colleagues with regards to number of evaluations completed on our residents as well as the receiving top scores for my bedside teaching as detailed in my Teaching Portfolio.

Formal Teaching:

Medical Student Teaching:

Formal lectures: Numerous student lectures in context of emergency medicine courses and clerkship. Family violence lecture to M1s and M2s, 2003-2010; Violence lecture to M1s 2011-2014

<http://energycommerce.house.gov/hearing/what-federal-government-doing-combat-opioid-abuse-epidemic>

Research Focus:

My research has focused primarily on violence and injury prevention, specifically intimate partner violence and the mental health sequelae associated with trauma. I have also studied the interface between emergency medicine and public health, and the utility of preventative health interventions and screening for high risk health behaviors.
