

Sarah Leggin Bio

Sarah Leggin is a Vice President of Regulatory Affairs at CTIA where she advocates on behalf of the wireless industry before the FCC, Congress, and other federal agencies as well as state representatives. Sarah's portfolio covers a wide variety of wireless issue areas, including consumer protection priorities, spectrum and AI policy, as well as streamlining wireless deployment. As part of her focus on consumer protection, Sarah launched the Secure Messaging Initiative, which facilitates information sharing to enhance enforcement against bad actors and promotes best practices to protect consumers and the text messaging platform. Prior to joining CTIA, Sarah advised communications companies on a variety of regulatory, policy, and transactional matters before the FCC, Department of Justice, and Congress at Hogan Lovells US LLP and at Steptoe & Johnson LLP. Sarah earned her B.A. from Duke University and her J.D., cum laude, from American University Washington College of Law.