Natural Resources Defense Council. Its purpose is to teach science to lay people active in environmental decision making by considering scientific principles in a context informed by the legal and policy issues that science is required to resolve. It is designed to offer 30 hours of instruction and consists of nine lectures covering (1) chemicals in the environment; (2) chemical fate and transport; (3) assessing chemical releases; (4) fate and transport models; (5) consequence assessment through toxicology; (6) consequence assessment through epidemiology; (7) consequence assessment through ecotoxicology; (8) risk assessment; and (9) pollution control. Each lecture culminates with a class exercise that applies the scientific concepts learned in each lecture to a single, recurring scenario involving the remediation of a brownfields site.

1998-1999:

Reporter, U.S. EPA Title VI Implementation Advisory Committee.

Author of a report explaining the deliberations of this subcommittee of "stakeholders" concerned about the application of federal prohibitions on discrimination to environmental permitting decisions.

PRACTICAL EMPLOYMENT*1987 to 1994:

Partner (1989 to 1994) and of counsel (1987 to 1989, and 1994), Spiegel and McDiarmid, Washington, D.C.

Partner in charge of the environmental practice for a 45-lawyer firm representing approximately 400 cities, counties, states, and public agencies in the energy, environmental, communications, and transportation fields. The practice counseled federal, state, and municipal clients regarding compliance with federal and state laws and regulations and represented them in resolving federal enforcement actions, as well as cases alleging their liability under the federal Comprehensive Environmental Response, Compensation and Liability Act (CERCLA or Superfund).

1983 to 1987:

Staff Counsel, Subcommittee on Commerce, Transportation, and Tourism of the Energy and Commerce Committee, U.S. House of Representatives (James J. Florio, Chairman).

Primary staff person responsible for legislation that became the "Superfund Amendments and Reauthorization Act of 1986" (Public Law 99-499) and the "Asbestos Hazard Emergency Response Act" (Public Law 99-519). Also prepared legislation to reauthorize the Toxic Substances Control Act during the 98th

Congress. Responsibilities included drafting bills, Committee reports, other legislative history, and legal and policy memoranda; advising the Subcommittee chairman and other members during Committee mark-ups, floor debate, and Conference deliberations; staffing legislative and oversight hearings; speechwriting and press relations.

1979 to 1983:

Attorney Advisor to Commissioner Patricia P. Bailey, Federal Trade Commission.

Senior legal advisor to the Commissioner concerning consumer protection matters including the issuance of complaints, acceptance of consent agreements, and the disposition of trade regulation rules. Drafted opinions resolving administrative litigation. Served as legislative liaison during congressional consideration of bills to eliminate the FTC's antitrust jurisdiction over the medical professions; legislative veto of the Used Car Rule; and oversight of the FTC's implementation of its consumer protection authority.

1979:

Assistant to the Director, Albert H. Kramer, Bureau of Consumer Protection, Federal Trade Commission.

Assisted the bureau director in supervising the work of staff attorneys and formulating recommendations to the Commission concerning trade regulation rules and enforcement cases. Areas of expertise included credit practices, appliance labeling, funeral industry practices, and advertising practices. Served as legislative liaison during congressional oversight of the FTC's implementation of its consumer protection authority.

1976 to 1979:

Staff Attorney, Division of Credit Practices, Bureau of Consumer Protection, Federal Trade Commission.

Enforcement attorney in cases involving credit and insurance industry members' practices covered by the Federal Trade Commission Act, the Truth in Lending Act, the Equal Credit Opportunity Act, and the Fair Credit Reporting Act.
