PAUL N. CICIO
PRESIDENT
INDUSTRIAL ENERGY CONSUMERS OF AMERICA (IECA)

Paul N. Cicio has been the President of the Industrial Energy Consumers of America (IECA) since its founding twelve years ago. IECA is recognized in Washington as the voice of the industrial energy consumer and testifies on energy and environmental issues before Congress and relevant regulatory agencies more than any other manufacturing-based trade association in the country.

IECA is a nonpartisan association of leading manufacturing companies with $1.1 trillion in annual revenues and with more than 2,900 facilities nationwide. IECA membership represents a diverse set of industries including: commodity and specialty chemicals, plastics, iron and steel, cement, paper, food processing, fertilizer, glass, pharmaceutical, and aluminum.

Mr. Cicio is a well known consumer advocate for the industrial sector on issues related to energy and the environment, and is recognized for his efforts within national and international circles. He has testified before Congress, the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission, and the Commodity Futures Trading Commission sixteen times.

Previous to IECA, Mr. Cicio was employed by The Dow Chemical Company where he held a number of commercial assignments in the Organic Chemicals Department, Plastics, Hydrocarbons and Energy Department, and the Government Affairs Department. He retired from Dow Chemical after 30 years of service.

Mr. Cicio graduated from Youngstown State University with a BS in Business Administration and Economics. He resides in Vienna, Virginia near Washington, DC.
