Biography

MARK WAGNER Johnson Controls, Inc. Vice President, Government Relations

Mark Wagner is Vice President of Government Relations for Johnson Controls, Inc., a Fortune 100 company and a global leader in energy efficiency for buildings, building automation systems, advanced automotive batteries, and automotive interiors. In his position he manages the company's government relations operations and offices in Washington, DC and Brussels, promoting Johnson Controls' strategic position and objectives with policy makers in the U.S. and Europe.

Mark's areas of expertise include energy policy, energy efficiency, renewable energy, electronic security systems, advanced battery technology and federal procurement.

During his 19 years with Johnson Controls, Mark has been instrumental in developing programs with the U.S. federal government, including Energy Savings Performance Contracting and other public-private partnerships.

Before he joined Johnson Controls, Mark served in the Office of the Secretary of Defense as Special Assistant to the Assistant Secretary of Defense for Economic Security, working on defense policy matters involving base closings, industrial issues, competitive sourcing, and privatization. In recognition of his contributions, Defense Secretary William Perry awarded Mark the Secretary of Defense Medal for Outstanding Public Service in 1996.

Prior to his work at DOD, Mark was the Executive Director of the Wisconsin Procurement Institute, overseeing a statewide federal procurement assistance program for more than 1,500 Wisconsin companies. He also has served as a Congressional staff member for Representative Les Aspin, U.S. Senator Birch Bayh, and Representative John Brademas.

Mark received his Bachelor of Arts degree in Political Science from Indiana University in 1975 and his law degree from the Indiana University School of Law at Bloomington in 1983.
