Creighton "Butch" McAvoy is the President of The McAvoy Vitrified Brick Company T/A The McAvoy Brick Company. He is currently a member of the Board of Directors of the Brick Industry Association. He has held numerous offices in BIA including Treasurer, Chairman of the Manufacturer's Counsel, Chairman of the Midwest Northeast Region and as a member of the BIA Executive Committee. Mr. McAvoy has also served as Chairman of the Structural Clay Products Division of The American Ceramic Society.

Mr. McAvoy started his brick making career at the of age 16, working summers and holidays during high school and college in his family's brick plant in Phoenixville, Pennsylvania. He learned brick manufacturing from the bottom up, doing every hot and dirty job the plant had to offer, while earning spending money for college. After graduating from college in 1980, Mr. McAvoy joined McAvoy Brick full time. He held positions in manufacturing, shipping and sales.

In 1989 Mr McAvoy left his family's company to take a position as Assistant Plant Manager of the much larger Darlington Clay Products Company. He was responsible for all phases of manufacturing, product development and oversaw many capital improvement projects. After three years at Darlington Mr. McAvoy returned to his family's company as General Manager and Treasurer. In 1995 he was made President of The McAvoy Brick Company.

Under Mr. McAvoy's leadership the company has concentrated on making high quality architectural brick. The company has produced brick for many colleges and universities including recent project at Yale University, The University of Pennsylvania, Ohio University, Gallaudet University, La Salle University and Franklin & Marshall College, just to name a few. The company also exports brick to Canada and in 2007 even supplied brick to a project in Russia.
