Steve was named General Manager of Public Utility District No. 1 of Chelan County (Chelan PUD) by the Board of Commissioners in September 2013.

He graduated from the University of Oregon with a degree in public administration. Steve began his professional career at the Bonneville Power Administration (BPA) in the energy conservation division in 1981. He held a number of positions within BPA, the last 12 years as Administrator/CEO. BPA provides roughly one-third the electricity and 70% of the high voltage transmission in the Pacific Northwest. At BPA he was in charge during the west coast energy crisis and the resulting financial recovery, completed a 10 year agreement for salmon restoration in the Columbia River basin, oversaw substantial increases in energy efficiency investments, new transmission to support wind power development and new 20-year power sales contract for all of BPA's supply.

As General Manager, Steve has led the development of a community based Strategic Plan finalized in April 2015. Steve is committed to an open dialogue with customers, employees and the PUD's many business partners about the priorities of the PUD and continuing to ensure low rates and reliable service consistent with a financially stable public power utility. In 2016 survey 93% of customers indicated they were very satisfied or satisfied with their Chelan PUD service. He is married and has three children ages 24, 20 and 17.
