Curriculum Vitae

Daniel M. Evans Fluor Federal Petroleum Operations

Mr. Evans currently serves as President and CEO of Fluor Federal Petroleum Operations LLC, and Project Manager of its Strategic Petroleum Reserve (SPR) Management & Operations (M&O) contract with the U.S. Department of Energy (DOE). In this role, he is responsible for the performance of the overall enterprise and partners with DOE, regulators, and other stakeholders to provide safe, secure, and responsible stewardship of this national resource. Mr. Evans' safety leadership at FFPO was recently recognized by the National Safety Council as a 2018 "CEO That Gets it." Mr. Evans is also a Vice President of Fluor Corporation.

Mr. Evans has extensive experience in the energy industry with over 25 years with Exxon, Halliburton and other firms. He has expertise in both the fossil and nuclear energy industries. He has also worked with DOE in a variety of senior roles at the majority of their nuclear facilities. He spent most of the 1980s at the Oak Ridge National Laboratory performing research in its Energy Division.

As a 14-year Fluor employee, Mr. Evans has served in operations and business development capacities. In addition to his operations service at the SPR, Mr. Evans was Vice President of Savannah River Nuclear Solutions with responsibility for nuclear nonproliferation, systems engineering, strategic planning and risk management. In his business development role, he led the successful efforts to win the Savannah River Management & Operating contract and the Paducah Decommissioning Task Order.

Mr. Evans has a Bachelor of Arts degree from Knox College in Galesburg, IL and a Master of Science degree from the University of Tennessee, Knoxville. He and his wife Abbey live in New Orleans and have three adult children.
