

Gregory Wetstone

President & Chief Executive Officer

American Council on Renewable Energy

Gregory Wetstone is President and CEO of the American Council on Renewable Energy (ACORE). ACORE is a national nonprofit organization dedicated to advancing renewable energy through finance, policy and market development.

Prior to joining ACORE Greg oversaw government affairs as VP for Terra-Gen Power LLC, a renewable energy company with utility-scale wind, solar and geothermal energy facilities. Prior to his six years with Terra-Gen, he served as Senior Director for Government and Public Affairs at the American Wind Energy Association (AWEA) and Director of Programs at the Natural Resources Defense Council (NRDC), where he founded the legislative program. Earlier in his career, Greg was Senior Counsel to the House Energy and Commerce Committee and played an important role in crafting several important laws including the 1990 Clean Air Act Amendments.

Greg has written and spoken widely on energy and environmental issues. His writings have appeared many outlets across the nation and online. He has a J.D. from the Duke University School of Law and a B.S. from Florida State University.
