

Natalie M. King

Biography

Natalie King is the founder and Chief Executive Officer of Dunamis Clean Energy Partners, LLC. Prior to forming Dunamis, Ms. King served as co-founder, Vice President and General Counsel of J King Solar Technologies, LLC, a solar energy integration firm.

Ms. King has over 15 years of experience in the green energy industry. Under her leadership, Dunamis has grown into a multi-million dollar corporation with over 150 employees throughout Southeastern Michigan. Ms. King's innovative vision for Dunamis has resulted in the creation of a diversified portfolio of products and services, including LED lighting and Electric Vehicle Charger manufacturing, as well as energy efficiency and environmental service solutions. Through her trailblazing initiative, Dunamis Charge, a wholly owned subsidiary of Dunamis, is the first African American owned electric vehicle charger manufacturer in the United States. She was awarded the Ernst & Young 2021 Entrepreneur of the Year Award for Michigan and Northwest Ohio. Ms. King has also been integral in the company's selection into prestigious national supplier development programs such as the inaugural Apple Impact Accelerator Program and the Stellantis National Black Supplier Program. She previously operated The Law Offices of Natalie M. King, PLC, where she managed a successful corporate, real estate and entertainment law practice for 18 years. Ms. King was also an adjunct professor on Contract and Business Law at Thomas M. Cooley Law School and Liberty University.

Ms. King is a native Detroit, earning her undergraduate degree from the University of Michigan and juris doctorate from Wayne State University Law School. She serves as Board Member of the National Business League (formerly the Michigan Black Chamber of Commerce) and has been passionately committed to charitable initiatives and community advocacy for over 25 years. She served for six years, between 2012-2017, as the event organizer for the Annual Detroit Red Carpet Backyard BBQ for the Homeless & Hungry which fed over 5,000 Detroit citizens in need annually. She currently serves as Board Chairperson for Abayomi Community Development Corporation, a nonprofit youth servicing organization and board member of The Yunion, Inc., a nonprofit youth mentoring organization.

She is a published author of the book "Let There Be Light", available on Amazon and Kindle.