

Mark Aysta – Biography

Mark Aysta is the managing director of enterprise security for Duke Energy. He leads a team responsible for maintaining the safety and security of Duke Energy's employees and assets. In addition to traditional physical security, Aysta is responsible for the digital forensics, insider threat, and intelligence programs.

Prior to joining Duke Energy in 2018, Aysta spent 22 years as a special agent with the FBI where he investigated violations of federal law and conducted national security investigations with an emphasis on undercover and sensitive operations.

He's also traveled extensively around the world to instruct law enforcement and intelligence services professionals on the topics of insider threats and the use of covert techniques.