

Professional Bio

Shawn Woods is President of Ashlar Homes, LLC, a residential builder, and developer in the Kansas City area, focusing on providing attainable homes to homebuyers. Ashlar's business model combines development, sales and building within one company to help pass on a lower price to the buyer. Shawn attended Rockhurst University, earning a degree in business management while playing baseball. After college, he became a financial analyst at the Federal Reserve Bank of Kansas City and then a production planner for Gasket Engineering here in KC. He later moved into the home building industry in 1999. Shawn has served on the Greater Kansas City HBA Board of Directors since 2008 and served as the President of HBA in 2019. He was voted into the Kansas City Home Builders Hall of Fame in 2020 by his peers. Shawn currently serves as a National Area Chairman for the National Association of Home Builders and is a member of the land development committee as well as Chair of the single-family production committee. Shawn lives in Blue Springs with wife Lindsey of 28 years, and they have two children together, Tucker (22) and Maryn (20).
