

Biography of Tyler O'Connor

Tyler O'Connor is a Partner in the Washington, D.C. office of Crowell & Moring LLP, where he co-leads the Energy team. In that role, Tyler advises companies on the Inflation Reduction Act (“IRA”) and Infrastructure Investment and Jobs Act (“IIJA”), represents clients in rulemakings and on Capitol Hill, and litigates energy disputes.

In addition to helping clients navigate the IRA and IIJA, Tyler represents energy industry clients in civil litigation, enforcement matters, and in disputes against the government. He has successfully represented clients in bet-the-company litigation, including in multi-hundred-million-dollar contract disputes, in Federal Energy Regulatory Commission proceedings and Department of Energy enforcement actions, and in suits against the Department of Interior and Environmental Protection Agency. He has also co-authored appellate briefs on energy, environmental, civil rights, torts, and other issues.

Prior to joining Crowell, Tyler served as the Energy Counsel to the House Energy and Commerce Committee, where his portfolio included the Federal Power Act and Natural Gas Act. He also had the distinct privilege, with many others, of working on the Inflation Reduction Act and Infrastructure Investment and Jobs Act.

Tyler clerked for the Honorable Catharina Haynes on the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit. Tyler received his J.D. magna cum laude in 2014 from the Emory University School of Law.
