Attachment 1—Additional Questions for the Record

The Honorable John Shimkus

1. Page 21 of the legislative framework released last week calls for the development of a “process by which physicians, medical societies, health care provider organizations, and other entities may propose” Alternative Payment Models for adoption and use in the Medicare program. Tell me, do you believe that model development from private payers and providers like those at Independent health can lead to reforms that could benefit patients, providers, and taxpayers?

The Honorable Gus Bilirakis

1. How much of these quality measures should be developed for the physician in general or should we have measures for specific diseases? How do we develop quality measures for rare diseases? These are hard to diagnose diseases with small populations. If we do develop metrics for specific conditions, how do we responsibly develop measurements for these conditions when research may be more limited?
2. How much input should patient groups have and what type of input into the process should they have when determining these measures?
3. Should the system evolve to allow a direct feedback loop to the doctor? For example, the physician would know that they were paid X because they did or did not do Y to patient Z. Do we want that granular a system, or should the information and payment be done on a more aggregate level?
4. Is it possible to use physician quality measures to encourage patients to better follow doctor’s plan to manage diseases? For example, a newly diagnose diabetic getting a follow up call by the doctor reminding them to check their blood sugar or reminding them to schedule an appointment with a nutritionist. Should these metrics be limited to what is done inside the physician’s office?
5. Should the quality measures be weighted? If there are 10 things that a doctor can do to increase their performance measure, should they be rated equally for payment bonuses or weighted to account for time or difficulty?

Attachment 2—Member Requests for the Record

During the hearing, Members asked you to provide additional information for the record, and you indicated that you would provide that information. For your convenience, descriptions of the requested information are provided below.

The Honorable John D. Dingell

1. During the hearing, you agreed that Congress should look at the innovations and changes being made in the private sector when considering reforms to SGR. Would you please list some suggestions of what you feel might be useful?
