Dennis Ross was born in Lakeland, Fla., and has lived there for most of his life. He spent a few years in Alabama, where he studied Organizational Management at Auburn University's School of Business and later attended Cumberland School of Law at Samford University, earning his Juris Doctorate.

Rep. Ross has worked in a private law firm, served as in-house counsel for Walt Disney World, and later started his own practice. He was elected to the state legislature in 2000, where he represented central Florida for four terms. In 2010, he was elected to the U.S. House of Representatives, serving his constituents in Florida's 15th Congressional District.

He currently sits on the House Financial Services Committee.
