Gil Roth
President
Pharma & Biopharma Outsourcing Association (PBOA)

Gil Roth is the founder and president of the Pharma & Biopharma Outsourcing Association (PBOA). In 1999, he helped launch Contract Pharma, which swiftly became the premier magazine covering the pharma/biopharma outsourcing and contract services industry. He served as founding editor of Contract Pharma from October 1999 until February 2014, chronicling the evolution of the pharmaceutical outsourcing sector. He also helped build the magazine's annual Contracting & Outsourcing Conference & Exhibition into a top-tier event for both contract service providers and their clients.

In 2013, while reporting on an article about the Generic Drug User Fee Amendments (GDUFA), Mr. Roth identified the need for a trade association for bio/pharma Contract Manufacturing Organizations (CMOs) and Contract Development and Manufacturing Organizations (CDMOs), in order to provide them with a voice in regulatory and legislative areas and to raise awareness of the pivotal role they play in healthcare. He held a symposium on the topic in September 2013 and received strong support from many companies in the CMO/CDMO field. Recognizing that both roles required complete dedication, he stepped down from the editorship of Contract Pharma in February 2014 in order to take on the full-time job of building the PBOA, recruiting its roster of member companies, and developing its agenda.

The PBOA launched in June 2014 with 15 member companies and currently counts 32 CMO/CDMOs among its members, including global multinational pure-play service providers, the outsourcing divisions of major pharma companies, and smaller single-site companies.

Gil Roth received a B.A. from Hampshire College in 1993, and an M.A.L.A. from St. John's College (Annapolis, MD) in 1995. He was an associate editor and managing editor for several business-to-business magazines before becoming the founding editor of Contract Pharma, a role he held for nearly 15 years. He can be reached at [REDACTED].
