Biography for Naomi Lopez Bauman
Director of Healthcare Policy, Goldwater Institute

Naomi Lopez Bauman serves as the Director of Healthcare Policy for the Goldwater Institute. She most recently served as the Director of Research and the Director of Health Policy at the Illinois Policy Institute.

Lopez Bauman also previously worked as a public policy consultant researching federal and state health care programs, social and economic well-being, pension reform, federal and state health and welfare programs, barriers to entrepreneurship, and tax expenditure programs. She also served as Director of both the Center for Enterprise and Opportunity and the Project on Children at the Pacific Research Institute and was a member of the California Senate Bipartisan Task Force on Homelessness. Lopez Bauman also worked as a research associate in healthcare and welfare at the Institute for Socioeconomic Studies and as an entitlements policy analyst at the Cato Institute. She also served as special policy advisor to the State of Michigan's Secchia Commission, which provided recommendations for state government reform.

A frequent media guest and public speaker, Lopez Bauman has more than two decades of federal- and state-level policy expertise and has authored numerous studies, opinion articles, and commentaries. She holds a B.A. in economics from Trinity University in Texas and an M.A. in government from Johns Hopkins University.
