Faisel A. Syed, MD

Dr. Faisel Syed is an ABFM Board-certified family medicine physician with a personal mission to improve access to primary care. He is currently the National Director of Primary Care at ChenMed. Prior to this, he served as Associate Chief Medical Officer in Lakeland, Florida for Dedicated Senior Medical Center, a ChenMed company.

Before joining Dedicated Senior Medical Center, Dr. Syed served as Chief Medical Officer at Tampa Family Health Centers. In that capacity, he oversaw efforts to improve both the quality and efficiency of care for 1 out of 10 people in Hillsborough County, over 120,000 patients. He is passionate about improving community health, specifically for the underserved. Dr. Syed worked with the University of South Florida (USF) to help develop a health professions workforce to support Florida's growing geriatric population along with addressing gaps in health care for older adults.

Dr. Syed enjoys practicing a holistic style of medicine being a firm believer with promoting healthy lifestyle changes. His full academic CV is available upon request.