

Matthew Fiedler Biography

Matthew Fiedler is the Joseph A. Pechman Senior Fellow in Economic Studies and a senior fellow with the Brookings Schaeffer Initiative on Health Policy. His research examines a range of topics in health care economics and policy. Prior to joining the Brookings Institution in January 2017, Fiedler served as Chief Economist on the staff of the Council of Economic Advisers, where he oversaw the Council's work on health care policy, including implementation of the Affordable Care Act.